

Allison Gee

In the State of Arizona, Allison D. Gee is one of only three Accredited Senior Appraisers designated and tested in Fine Arts through the American Society of Appraisers. She also earned a Certificate in Appraisal Studies in Fine and Decorative Art from the University of California, Irvine. She holds a Masters of Art in Art History from Arizona State University.

In the past five years, Ms. Gee has completed three IRS symposiums offered by the American Society of Appraisers on valuation issues involving laws and regulations in estate taxes and charitable donations. These symposiums featured several speakers from the IRS, including the current Director of Appeals for the Art Appraisal Services of the IRS; the then Chief of the Art Appraisal Services in the Commissioner's Art Advisory Panel Department of the Treasury, IRS; and the past Director of IRS Art Appraisal Services.

Ms. Gee is currently serving her second term to an elected position on the prestigious International Personal Property Discipline Committee of the American Society of Appraisers.
