

SEPTEMBER LIVE WEBINAR

"Getting Your Organization Onboard with Fundraising"

We may be great at cultivating relationships with our donors but are we equally as great at building and nurturing a philanthropic culture top to bottom in our organizations? And if we are not focusing on this then why are we not?

If the unique nature of non-profit organizations is a reliance on philanthropy to fulfill our missions, then why do so many organizations fail to recognize the value of understanding how a 'philanthropic' (not fundraising!) culture is crucial to have woven throughout the organization?

At the conclusion of this session, participants will:

- Understand both the differences and the synergies between fundraising and philanthropy.
- Have a new perspective on the relationship between fundraising and philanthropy that will change the way you engage others in your work.
- Be able to assess your own organization's culture and identify areas for improvement and practical tips and techniques to help you change it.

Target Audience: All fundraisers who want to get themselves out of the silo, increase revenues and engage their entire organization. Executive Directors and Board Members will also benefit from this session.

When & Where

Wednesday, September 24, 2014

When: 10:00am - 11:30am

Where: Southwest Autism Research & Resource Center
300 N. 18th Street, Phoenix, AZ 85006

About the Speaker

Andrea McManus, CFRE is President of The Development Group, a Canadian-based philanthropic consulting firm. She was the first Canadian to serve as Chair of the International Board of the AFP (2011-12) and is a passionate believer in, writer and speaker on the role fundraising plays in growing philanthropy worldwide.

Cost

AFP Member - Free
Nonmember - $25.00

Click here to register today!

Please note the webinar is not available for remote participation.*