Moving the Dials Together

Alliance Annual Member Meeting 2014

Are you “moving the dial?” Do you even know what “dial” you are trying to move? Are you connected to the bigger picture, which places your nonprofit in an ecosystem of social change actors across your community?

Most nonprofits are born out of “causes.” They want to make a difference by shaping the community, enacting social change or solving a problem. Measuring change and problem-solving is not the responsibility of any one organization: it is the community that created the problem, and it is the community that must solve the problem. But too often, nonprofits are “silo-ed” into narrow solutions, impact statements and goals that isolate them from the broader community whose support they need to make measureable change happen.

Who Should Attend:

The content of this presentation is geared toward senior nonprofit staff, board leaders, and volunteer leaders.

But real social change does not happen in silos. It never has. Moving the dial requires whole communities to push, pull, and lift together.

Join us on September 4

The Alliance Annual Member Meeting is a single day to unite nonprofit leaders who share a mission of a better Arizona. A single day for you to see your work in a bigger context, and connect with others who might hold a piece that is missing in your own puzzle.

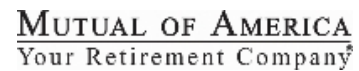

Here's what you can expect at the meeting:

- Keynote speaker Dr. Mark Rosenman will challenge the way you see your work
- Arizona-based success stories will share how they think bigger about their missions
- Thought-provoking dialogue to see how you fit together with others

Take some time for yourself to look up from your work at the big picture. I hope you will join us on September 4.
