About the Leadership Council:

The Alliance of Arizona Nonprofits has a two-part leadership structure: a Board of Trustees and the Arizona Nonprofit Leadership Council. While the Board is responsible for the viability of the organization itself, the Leadership Council advises the Board on the work of the Alliance. It is made up of Alliance Members who are committed to supporting, serving, protecting and promoting the entire nonprofit sector in Arizona.

The Council meets quarterly – twice in person and twice via teleconference. The in-person meetings are once in August or September in conjunction with the Annual Member Meeting and once during winter (usually in February).

The Alliance of Arizona Nonprofits Bylaws call for the Council to:

- Include 21 to 49 Alliance Members who represent its various constituencies
- Compose at least two-thirds of its members from Alliance Nonprofit Members, but may include other community members as well
- Reflect the state's geographic communities and the diversity of the communities and nonprofits in Arizona
- Meet quarterly in regular session, in addition to special meetings
- Deliberate and make recommendations to the Board of Trustees about...
 - Alliance membership and member services and programs
 - Changes to the Alliance Bylaws
 - Other issues referred by the Board of Trustees
