

Does your governing board know they have a fiduciary responsibility to review the IRS Form 990? If they know, do they know what to review? When your leadership team discusses development and marketing, is the IRS Form 990 included? If you answered “no” to the last three questions, you are not alone! This interactive session will walk you through the sections of the IRS Form 990 that leadership should be reviewing, provide you with tips on how to strengthen your organization’s reporting and forever change the way you look at the IRS Form 990!